The only way for the farmer to get rid of paying tribute to the trusts and monopolies is to vote the democratic ticket. The democratic congressmen voted to reduce the tariff on the necessities, and to give the farmer free binding twine, sugar and an unlimited coinage of silver. The republicans voted against it.
We have the largest lines of fall and winter goods—retailing goods at wholesale prices.

These union labor fellows have nominated a man 72 years of age for presiding judge of the county court, the most important office to the taxpayers of Bates county in their gift. D. R. Braden, a nineteenth century man, young, intelligent active and a successful farmer, ought to and will beat the old dotage 2,000 votes.
The McKinley high tariff tax bill has passed, binding twine, sugar and all. So Mr. farmer you will respect fully whack up to the Trust again next year for your twine.
Chauncey I. Filley, the republican boss, has invited Senator Plumb of Kansas, to make a few speeches in this state and the senator has accepted the invitation. Probably the senator thinks his explanation in fighting the tariff bill in the senate and the voting for it, binding twine and all will be easier made to the Missouri farmer than to the Kansas farmer.
For your children's suits go to
SAM'L LEVY & CO.
Chas. S. Concklin, of Passaic, one of the largest owners and breeders of fine stock in the county, gave us a pleasant call Friday, and favored us substantially. Sunday last, in company with Dr. Boulware ye local had a pleasant ride into the country some six or eight miles southeast of the city. The doctor of course was on a professional visit, while we were for pleasure and to see the country, and we must say that we were both surprised to find such a large acreage of wheat sown, and it was looking nice. Also to find that the corn crop was turning out fifty and sixty bushels to the acre, at least that is what the farmers told us, of whom we made inquiries.
See our line of nobby pants all the new colors only to be seen at
SAM'L LEVY & CO.
On the 23d inst the republican congress unseated Mr. Venable, the democratic congressman from Virginia, and seated in his place Langston, a negro. On the same day Mr. Elliott, democrat, of South Carolina was unseated, and Miller the negro contestant was given his seat, and the boys in Washington sang all night long "two new coons in town." This makes seven or eight democratic congressmen that have been unseated, and to take the St. Louis Globe Democrat's figures for it, it has cost the tax-payers one hundred and forty thousand dollars, to accomplish the job. Its needless to add the unseated members were all from the southern states.
Last week we thought binding twine would be put on the free list, but we are sorry to inform the farmer this week that such is not the case. The Trust must be protected consequently the republican conference said to the twine twisters, go on in the good old way, the farmer only kicks at harvesting time, and comes around all right on election day. Some of these days these eastern republicans will wake up to find that the western bottom rail am on top. See if they don't.

The entire estate of the late Samuel J. Randall is valued at only $5,000, and it consists wholly of personal effects. Mr. Randall's idea was that "a public office is a public trust." James G. Blaine was in congress for about the same length of time as Mr. Randall, and his estate is worth a million or more. Mr. Blaine's idea was that "a public office is a private snap." Randall was a democrat, Blaine is a republican.
Killed at Adrian.
Nelson Moody, a prominent business man of Adrian, was killed by the 9:40 passenger train at the Adrian depot, Monday night. We could not learn the full particulars of the accident, but it is said he passed between the cars of a freight train and in attempting to cross the track in front of the moving passenger, he was struck by the cow catcher. He lived for an hour or so but never regained consciousness. His death is not only a loss to Adrian but to the whole of the county, as he was an energetic enterprising citizen.
LATER.—Since writing the above we learn that Mr. Moody is not dead, though seriously if not fatally injured.
See our boys nobby fall over coat at $5.00, age 15 to 18. It is a dandy.
SAM'L LEVY & CO.
W. B. Lewis candidate for congress on the republican ticket must have a good big grudge at the railroads as he rides over the district in a two wheeled cart drawn by an old gray mare. To make the deception to the farmers complete while giving it over the country he thought to dress in a full suit of ducking and wear the regulation coon skin cap. Wonder if he tells the farmers as he passes through the district if they will elect him he will do up the railroads by driving the old gray mare and cart to Washington City. Mr. Lewis, the old gray mare and cart may be a drawing card in Cedar county, but it won't work the farmers of Bates. We are all for DeArmond up this way.
For your ladies' and children's hose and woollens be sure and go to SAM'L LEVY & CO.
Sam'l and Silas Levy, who have been east the past three weeks, buying their fall stock of goods arrived home Friday. Both say their purchases this season is the largest they have made during their business career in this city. From the bolts of calicoes, bolts of muslins, rolls of ginghams, and piles of dress goods of every description, flannels, cloaks, capes, ribbons, laces, millinery goods, boots, shoes, hats, caps, and the stock of clothing, we are lead to believe they are not misrepresenting their purchases this year. Next week they better inform the trade in regard to this matter. Watch the Times.
See our line of jersey suits, age 3 to 8. It will do you good.

A Republican Farmer For Vest.
Luther Williams a prominent farmer of Spruce township, was in the city lately and was feeling quite cheerful over crop prospects. Mr. Williams is one of those republican farmers who cannot see any reason or common sense in the farmers opposing Geo. G. Vest for re-election to the Senate, when he is fighting the great trusts and monopolies ever since his induction into that great body of law makers. He thinks Vest is fighting for the very thing the farmers want irrespective of party affiliations, and is not so party prejudiced that he cannot see what is his benefit.—MONTROSE DEMOCRAT.

We always do as we advertise, and give you good goods for little money.
SAM'L LEVY & CO.

The widows of Gens. Freemont, McClelland, Robert Jones and Crook were each given a pension last week of $2,000. It was claimed that Mrs. Fremont was in destitute circumstances, but her two sons who are holding good paying positions under the government, claim this is not true. The general's wife get $2,000 the common soldier's wife, just as good a woman, gets $24. The general used a spy-glass at a safe distance, the common soldier the musket at thirty paces.

Our Mr. Sam Levy has been in the market the greater part of the season and during that time watched the market closely and has secured for spot cash a great amount of merchandise at a sacrifice, which we are now retailing for less than the manufacturer's cost.

Remarkable Rescue. 2
Mrs. Michael Curtin, Plainfield Ill., makes the statement that she caught cold, which settled on her lungs; she was treated for a month by her family physician, but grew worse. He told her she was a hopeless victim of consumption and that no medicine could cure her. Her druggist suggested Dr. King's New Discovery for consumption, she bought a bottle and to her delight found herself benefited from first dose. She continued its use and after taking ten bottles, found herself sound and well, now does her own housework and is as well as she ever was.—Free trial bottles of this great discovery at any drug store large bottles 50c and $1.00.

Summit Gleanings.
The continued wet weather has caught a number of our farmers with their wheat not sown, as a consequence there will be a large amount of late wheat this season; that already sowed is up and looking well.
The cattle trade is booming; Mr. John T. Moore sold 50 head of two year old steers to W. M. Crouch at 3 cents per pound. Mr. Wright also sold 60 head to A. & M. L. Fry at the same figures. First lot will average about 950 lbs. and the last lot about 1,050 pounds. Mr. Moore and others will feed cattle in northeastern Summit, and yet there is room and corn for more, so come on with your cattle.
Our sporting men, J. B. Harris, John Flickinger and R. N. Stubblefield, keep the wolves and jack rabbits pretty well run out, for which the farmers are very thankful.
How strange it is that some men will imagine they can see a brand on a steer where none ever was made until the right one was found, and then, stranger still, how an eye witness can report proceedings in such unwholesome shape. Jot her down next time Jehoshaphat, before you see your neighbors, if your memory is bad.
Dr. G. W. Shelton has sold his farm in Deepwater township and will move to Webb City, Jasper county, about the 25th of this month. We, of eastern Summit, regret very much to have the doctor and his estimable family leave us. The doctor had a very extensive practice, and his leaving will be felt by the people of Deepwater and Summit townships. We can recommend him to the people where he goes as an honorable gentleman, a good physician and a valuable acquisition to society.
Well, friend Jake, you and Bro. Wade whoop up the water-works among other things, as we farmers would like plenty of water for ourselves and teams when in town next summer, and if you need any help to "enforce the ordinances against nuisances" your country friends will lend a helping hand. OBSERVER.

Have pasture room for 100 head of cattle; good grass, water and shade. Apply at once to Geo. M. Canterbury, Framers bank. 39-4f
